MESSAGE FROM CONVENER

The world needs Jagriks – self-awakened, aware, active citizens. Not a handful of ‘heroes’, but a large cohort of changemakers who believe in shared leadership and collaboration. Such transformational leadership is not ‘taught’ in classrooms; it flourishes through compelling experiences that encourage young people to unearth their true potential and develop the skills necessary to be lifelong Jagriks.

Our focus in 2022-2023 was as much around strengthening our muscles for amplification and partnerships as it was about scouling (scaling with soul) our programmes. We aimed to empower and build aspirations for youth to pursue entrepreneurial opportunities aligned with their passions. Interventions like Jabardast Jagrik Peer Tutor, Justice Jagrik, and GreEntrepreneurs supported 247 youth leaders addressing justice, gender, education, wellbeing, and climate change in their communities.

This year’s journey took us to scale with government systems in Delhi and Jharkhand. We partnered with SCERT, Delhi to build the capacities of educators to deliver mindset change and active citizenship based curriculum to over 18 lakh students in Delhi Government schools. We also collaborated with 200 Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidhyalayas to accelerate constitutional literacy and promote active citizenship.

Building on our previous efforts, over 10,000 young people embarked on their journey as changemakers in 2022 through programs like Samvidhan LIVE! Be a Jagrik and Togetherness Table – Wellbeing Edition. Additionally, we were able to further our efforts with technology to create youth-centric spaces by developing the ‘UnDecide’ prototype - a platform to help young people develop their agency and skills to make better decisions for themselves.

A significant milestone in our journey last year was our inclusion in the first cohort of the GROW Fund, helping us to strengthen systems for our internal and external strategies. Many of our new initiatives took flight and existing initiatives reached new heights, with support from partners such as, Ashoka, Azim Premji Foundation, DKA Austria, Echidna Giving, Lisle Foundation, Roddenberry Foundation, Rohini Nilekani Philanthropies, Tides Foundation, UNFPA, UNICEF, Vaya Trust, YuWaah, and Zoom Cares.

We are profoundly grateful for the ‘collective wisdom’ generously offered by the vartaLeap coalition - an intergenerational community of youth-engaging organizations, youth workers, and youth leaders. Even as we gear up for new experiments in the coming year, through shared learning, co-creation and collaboration, we remain dedicated to our mission of ‘Every Youth a Jagrik, Every Space Nurturing Jagriks.’

ABOUT US

ComMutiny stands for the first 'mutiny' within a young person, symbolic of the fact that social and systemic transformation cannot happen without personal transformation. Founded in 2008, ComMutiny - The Youth Collective is a community of practice of youth work organizations across the country engaged in Aggregating, Accelerating and Amplifying empowering youth spaces co-led with self-aware, active citizens i.e. Jagriks.

In 2019, recognizing the need for mainstreaming youth-centric development across all sectors, we incubated The vartaLeap Coalition. It is a cross-sectoral grouping of youth-engaging organizations from the development sector, government, media, corporate, educational institutions, and UN agencies. The purpose of the coalition is to design, pilot and scale youth-centric innovations and enable appropriate narrative shifts. Our vision is:

'Every Youth a Jagrik, Every Space Nurturing Jagriks'

STRATEGIES

Aggregation

Collectivising some of the best youth-focused organizations and youth-work practitioners in the country into an effective, collaborative ecosystem.

Acceleration

Designing, piloting, and scouling (scaling with soul), youth-centric experiences to address the current psychosocial, economic, and ecological needs of young people.

Amplification

Amplifying norm-shifting narratives to build a case for youth-centric development by engaging diverse stakeholders

AGGREGATION

Collectivising some of the best youth-focused organizations and youth-work practitioners in the country into an effective, collaborative ecosystem.

In a voluntary coalition, nurturing the energy and commitment of members is an ongoing process. While strategizing and collective action are a big part of what a coalition does, the 'being' of the coalition lies in the experiences and connections that are built amongst members. Aggregation is thus a very critical component that makes the coalition engine work.

The vartaLeap coalition has 167 members, all invested in youth leadership. They have given more than 5,000 volunteering hours to strengthen the collective and put efforts into mainstreaming the narrative towards youth-centric development by strategically responding to the needs of young people.

Members are engaged regularly through different activities that together make up the Aggregate strategy of the coalition. These include:

- Bonding Spaces to strengthen relationships and solidarity within the coalition
- Learning Events to nurture collaboration and learning exchanges among members
- Public Events to shape, strengthen, and amplify youth-centric narratives with key stakeholders and influencers.

vartaLab and working groups: The strength of the coalition comes from the diversity of perspectives brought in by different members. The strategic groups design, pilot, and scale youth-centric innovations or work on a shared agenda together. This year we increased gender representation, geographical diversity, age diversity, and representation of members from different sectors.

Annual Treat:

A 3-day annual space at Jim Corbett National Park was created for all members to come together for a shared bonding and learning experience and strategic decision-making for the coalition.

- A celebration of friendships, diving deep into our collective strengths decided this year's focus area to be climate change, narrative & amplification and strengthening wellbeing and constitution work.
- Nurture organic collaborations by creating space for sharing flagship programs and learning tools through 'Power of Collective'.
- The Treat was designed, facilitated and co-led by intergenerational team of 15 volunteer members of the coalition.

Present in 19 states impacting ~10 Lakhs youth every year.

Power of Collective Portal is developed with a mission to nurture exchange and collaboration across the members of the coalition. It profiles all members, highlighting their flagship programmes, tools and events.

ACCELERATION

Designing, piloting and scaling youth-centric experiences to address current 'psycho-social-cultural-economic-ecological' needs of young people.

In response to some of the most pressing needs and issues that affect young people in the current context, we have designed frameworks, tools and journeys that promote youth-centric development practices across sectors. The year 2022 marks a shift in our thematic priorities with attention to Climate Change, Gender, Wellbeing, and Constitutional Literacy.

Interventions Under Each Themes

Constitutional Literacy

- Samvidhan LIVE! Be a Jagrik
- Samjho Toh: The Samvidhan LIVE! Dialogues and Fraternity Labs

JUST JAGRIK

Young people undertake guided self and social action tasks; run public engagement initiatives to influence their own communities for sustained impact.

I. TOGETHERNESS TABLE

TogetherNESS Table: Wellbeing edition was designed by the members of the varatLeap coalition during the times of COVID-19; for creating safer intergenerational spaces to build and enhance 'Feelings Literacy' among young people. Since then, the innovation has enabled thousands of young people to deeply engage with their adverse feelings and transform them into empowering feelings. The intimate group experience takes the participants through three stages viz. interrupting and labeling; accepting and interpreting; and switching and empathetic action. In our effort to expand the number of young people impacted through the innovation, we were able to add 1898 participants in 2022 who experienced the TogetherNESS Table journey.

I think there is a lot of thought and depth that has gone into creating the design of TogetherNESS Table. It is extremely engaging and has the right balance between co-creation, competition and learning. Having run the design on ground, I truly believe that it creates a safe space for intergenerational groups to express their feelings.

II. SAMVIDHAN LIVE! BE A JAGRIK

The 'Samvidhan Live! Be a Jagrik'- a flagship intervention since 2016, has garnered tremendous appreciation for its innovative design and applicability to diverse contexts in India and Nepal. The intervention uses the framework of the Indian Constitution and creates real world opportunities for adolescents and young people to experience and bring alive the ideals of the Constitution while simultaneously building their leadership capacities.

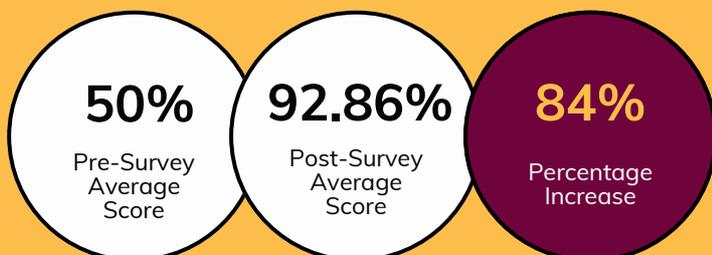

The self and community weekly tasks performed by the participants have been designed to ensure their participation in the matters that concern them. The facilitated spaces ensure deep reflection and building of 21st century skills such as decision-making, curious empathy, interpreting stories and stereotypes, 100% responsibility and building win-win solutions. In the year 2022, we added an additional 8500 adolescents and young people to the already existing alumni base of over 20,000 Jagriks.

Impact of Samvidhan- LIVE! on 8500 participants

Results of pre and post surveys done with all the participants across:

- knowledge/awareness
- Action at the level of self
- Inspiring Action at the level of community

The percentage shift represents the difference between the pre and post survey results.

I had a great time when I first began this programme in Ranchi. And when I did this with students in the 12th grade of a school. They learned that rights and duties go hand in hand, which deepened their understanding of the fundamental duties in particular. The five-week journey improved critical thinking skills and allowed students to develop a deeper grasp of fundamental rights and duties. Due to numerous school events, the sessions were delayed, but we never stopped them.

Story of Change

Upasana and Nomita have actively participated in the journey of Jagrik. Within their day-to-day activities, they successfully incorporated the weekly tasks of the Jagrik journey and were able to bring some changes in their neighborhood. With tasks like creating awareness about the Right to Education (R.T.E) Act both these girls effectively played an important role in enrolling a boy of class 6 into the school. As the little boy's story goes, with a father who works as a daily wage worker and no knowledge of R.T.E. his parents stopped his education as financially it was hard for the entire family to survive.

Upasana and Nomita on knowing about the boy's interest in academics explained the Act to his parents and then his father admitted the boy to the school. Upasana & Nomita also created a poem on the surroundings of their school as a part of their Jagrik task which they recited in the school assembly.

JABARDAST JAGRIK

Potential young changemakers identify 'systemic needs based issues' in their communities; design and lead their social action projects to address those with support from mentors.

I. PEER TUTOR INITIATIVE

The "Jabardast Jagrik Peer Tutor Initiative" was conceptualized as a peer-led intervention to bridge the learning loss experienced by adolescent girls due to COVID-19 pandemic. Our extended team of 18 youth facilitators identified and mentored 200 young peer tutors and supported them to further facilitate learning spaces for 4910 adolescent girls. The initiative focused on enhancing foundational numeracy, literacy and wellbeing of adolescent girls and was implemented in 7 states in India - Assam, Bihar, West Bengal, Jharkhand, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, and Gujarat.

Impact on 4910 adolescent girls

Adolescent girls in my learning center had not attended school for 2-3 years. They could not even read the alphabet despite some being in 8th grade. Through the initiative, and regular engagement in the learning center they have learned to read and write, which enabled them to regularly attend school once again. Seeing them read and write gives me immense happiness and makes me feel more confident about my own potential.

II. JUSTICE JAGRIK

The Justice Jagrik journey was designed to create opportunities for young changemakers to deeply engage with the law and justice system in India. Intended results included demystifying the justice delivery system for people in communities, and creating access to tools such as RTI, FIR etc. In 2022, we facilitated the journeys of 20 Changemakers to equip them with relevant skills, capacities, and knowledge to impact their communities.

Story of Change

Pair of Young Girls Empowered Women in their Village to Access Justice

Gayatri said, “I had always heard that justice can be accessed by going to a court or police station. But through my journey as a Justice Jagrik, I can now identify justice and injustice in daily life. I now have the courage to speak up against injustice.” Priyanka added, “I have realized that one doesn’t need to be a lawyer to access justice tools.”

Gayatri (23 years) and Priyanka (22 years) live in Timarni, Harda district, Madhya Pradesh. They joined the Justice Jagrik initiative to deepen their understanding of social justice and justice mechanisms. They underwent a journey of self-awareness, and became aware of justice tools, and how to access justice as a citizen. As they reflected together on the boot camp and contemplated their action project, they realized girls and women in villages are unaware of their constitutional rights and duties. Gayatri and Priyanka’s awareness instilled in them the passion and feeling of ownership to share their learnings. They developed their social action project - capacity building and empowering through justice tools. And decided to hold sessions on FIR, POCSO, in 3 nearby villages (Khartlaya, Samardha, Barja).

As they designed and planned their sessions, their confidence grew. Priyanka recalls, “We were so scared and nervous to enter the police station and wanted to run in the opposite direction. But then Gayatri and I looked at each other and walked in to get first-hand information and understand the process of filling an FIR.” They learned the art of articulating and communicating well with duty bearers, government stakeholders, police personnel, and held sessions for women much older than themselves. These sessions were safe spaces for women to come together, dialogue and share their lived experiences of being harassed and violated. The sessions were designed to not only demystify the POCSO act but also open many channels of conversations between young girls, their mothers and family members.

Gayatri and Priyanka (Justice Jagriks from Harda, Timarni) held Capacity building sessions to empower women through Justice Tools.

III. SAMJHO TOH: THE SAMVIDHAN LIVE! DIALOGUES & FRATERNITY LABS

Samjho Toh: Samvidhan Live! Dialogues & Fraternity Labs is designed as a learning and leadership journey that brings together young people from varied identities and ideologies to collaborate and co-create a shared idea of India premised on the values enshrined in the Preamble to the Constitution of India.

As part of the program, learning addas were conducted to create a common narrative around different thematic areas by young people from different backgrounds. Various Capacity building workshops were conducted to develop different capacities of the youth such as empathy, deep dialogue, listening, of young people.

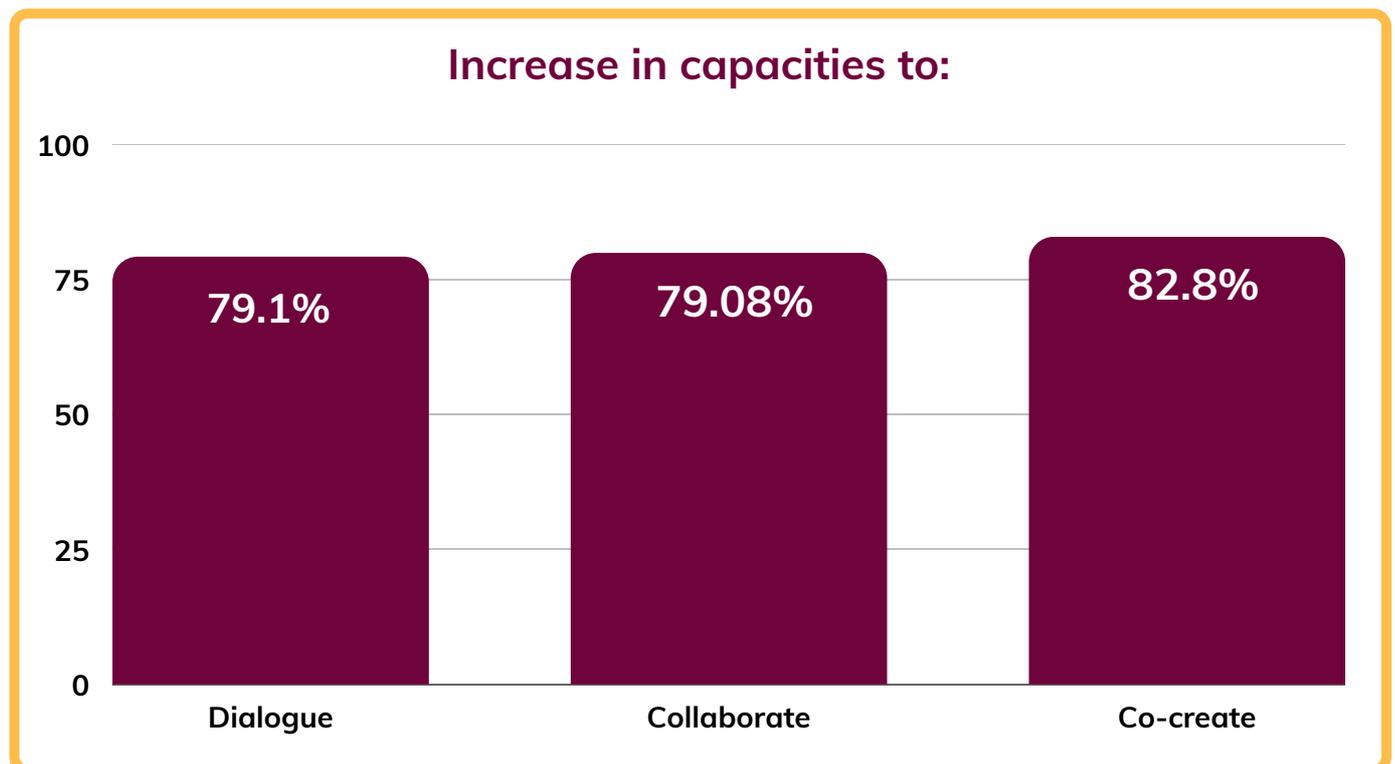

Participants in Delhi experiencing Samjho Toh: The Samvidhan LIVE! Dialogues & Fraternity Labs

OUTCOME NUMBERS

- 2340 Direct reach on ground
- 773 Young People
- 140 Harmonizing Narratives
- 42 Mohalla Sabhas
- 37 Youth workers
- 28 Fraternity labs
- 9 Locations

While the sessions brought about a powerful transformation at the self-level, it was also important to see ripples of change the lab could create at the community level and hence, Moholla Sabha's were co-created along with the community members. These sabhas created a space where prevalent polarizing issues were discussed through various mediums such as Nukkad Natak, movie screenings and other community engagement activities.

JEEVAN JAGRIK

At this stage of the leadership pipeline, young social entrepreneurs are nurtured to further cascade jagrik journeys and become schools of active citizenship in themselves

GREENTREPRENEURS INITIATIVE

GreEntrepreneur initiative was conceptualized to bring attention back to the intersection of wellbeing and climate change. This journey is envisaged as an inside-out learning and leadership journey. The journey supports young people to develop their ideas into projects/ social change initiatives that reimagine climate action from the “nourishing now” lens instead of the “frightening future” lens.

The journey focuses on deep awareness about climate action. Throughout the journey, young people are capacitated through different workshops such as Window to Changelooms (young people are provided with a foundational understanding of key concepts related to climate change) and Development Centre (The workshop offers a chance to learn and enhance capacities in different areas such as youth development, systems approach, design and facilitation skills, self-awareness etc). Along with the workshops and mentoring, youth leaders also have exposure to field immersion in local communities. This year 27 GreEntrepreneurs initiated their jagrik journey.

Titagarh Municipality is a hostile locality with little or less exposure or concern around Climate Change. The young volunteers from Pahchan Foundation assisted me in the mobilization phase for conducting the Mohalla Sabha in the locality. In spite of having the knowledge of high pollution level in the Municipality, none had any thoughts of curbing the pollution. However, the need for such discussions around climate change required to be done at the community level was validated by all.

ACCELERATING ACTIVE CITIZENSHIP : PARTNERSHIPS AND CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

ComMutiny has had an opportunity to develop key partnerships and resources that could further our work on active citizenship in different contexts.

Key Activities

• MoU with SCERT, Delhi

The Deshbhakti Curriculum and associated trainings have laid a foundation for realising the aim of active citizenship and a sense of belongingness (constitutional value of fraternity) in classrooms. This year, ComMutiny's primary responsibility was to cascade teacher trainings across classes. The training design captured aspects of self, classroom facilitation, and curriculum and was delivered in a participatory and activity-based manner making the process an experiential journey. The training fostered teachers' community, enhancing facilitation skills, curriculum alignment, and understanding of active citizenship principles, including a connect to constitutional values.

This cascade will ultimately reach 60,000 Deshbhakti Curriculum teachers and 18 lakh students

• Samjho Toh: The Samvidhan LIVE Dialogues – North East Edition

After a successful roll out of the Samjho Toh programme in previous years, we received the opportunity, in partnership with Lisle Foundation, to contextualise the curriculum for 4 states in the North East – Assam, Manipur, Mizoram and Nagaland. The curriculum was tweaked to suit relevant contexts and was also translated into Assamese and Mizo.

• Jagrik Journey Begins Curriculum Development and Pilots

ComMuntiny has developed a 90+ hours course on active citizenship for grades 6-8 and spread across the academic year. It covers 5 Modules on Self, Relationship, Society including (Sansar, Samaj, and Samvidhan) and focuses on an inside-out journey of an active citizen. The curriculum has been tested through small pilots and in the coming year we intend to disseminate it with CSOs, private schools and Government schools with relevant partners.

The Pilot of the Jagrik School Curriculum

ComMutiny partnered with schools to pilot test the Curriculum engaging 250+ adolescent students for 150+ instruction hours. The pilot took place in the following spaces:

Bluebells International School, New Delhi: A school with an experiential pedagogical leaning and founded on the idea of global citizenship.

Village Spirit Academy, Rajasthan: A school run by a CBO, namely ALFA, in a remote village of Udaipur, caters to underprivileged tribal children.

UNDECIDE - THE CHOICES WE MAKE, MAKE US

The word UnDecide has been coined as a verb that urges young people to be free of the traps that suboptimal decisions from the past may have landed them in. They challenge their assumptions and interpretations, and get support from a group of companions (decision mentors) who bring alternative viewing points to these everyday confusions in an empowering, safe digital space.

The UnDecide platform was conceptualized by ComMutiny Team as a part of the Aspire Fellowship by Ashoka Innovators for the Public and Ekstep Foundation (Societal Platform).

Key Activities

- Conducted 50 synchronous UnDecide sessions (manually)
- Semi-automated sessions are ongoing.

UNDECIDE USER JOURNEY

I got a sense that I am not alone in my confusions. Words and advice from other Accompaniers also helped me to see things from multiple perspectives. Sharing my opinions felt liberating.

A 20 year old UnDecider from a semi-urban area in Madhya Pradesh

Key learnings from building the platform

- Keep the agency of process with users by offering them different choices to navigate their own journey.
- Create a diverse intergenerational space where young people feel validation for their own perspectives as well as a challenge to their own assumptions and biases.
- The users should align with the core value exchange that the platform offers.

The platform, currently on WhatsApp chatbot can be accessed by sending a 'Hi' to '8882445563'

AMPLIFICATION

Amplifying norm-shifting narratives to build a case for youth-centric development by engaging diverse stakeholders

This year was about re-envisioning and re-aligning what narrative building means for us as a cross-sectoral coalition. While each member organization is creating youth-centric spaces through its work, as a coalition, our energy should focus on shaping the ecosystem for youth-centric development and being able to influence youth work practices in the country at all levels.

Engaging Diverse Stakeholders through a series of dialogues and events

- Building a Jagrik Jahan with YuWaah
- Changelooms Partner Dialogue
- Samjho Toh - Celebrating the Power of Fraternity
- Dialogue at Catalysing Change Week 2022
- Recommendations on the National Youth Policy 2021
- Samvidhan LIVE! Be a Jagrik celebration with UNICEF Jharkhand
- The Jashn-e-Jagrik Mela with SHEDO
- Love Aaj Kal: An Inter-generational Prem Katha
- JustBaat: Baatein Emotions Ki

India with the largest youth population has immense potential to catalyze positive change if we invest in the leadership development of young people and connect them to decision-making opportunities relevant to their future.

Dhuwarakha Sriram, Chief of Generation Unlimited (YuWaah), Youth Development and Partnerships

Through these activities, we have interacted with a diverse set of stakeholders (youth workers, civil society organisations, media representatives, local authorities, educators, young individuals, etc). With over 2,500 people directly engaged in these dialogues and events, these spaces became a confluence of diverse perspectives and experiences to establish the importance of youth-centricity.

Promoting Youth Centric Development on different platforms

In this period, we have been on diverse platforms (regional, national and international) to amplify different perspectives of youth-centric lens in mainstream narratives. These platforms have enabled us to present our work to newer audiences as well as create visibility opportunities for youth leaders in the ecosystem.
