About the program

Do you know that 9 out of 50 regions in the world facing high climate risk fall in India? India, China and the U.S. are home to 80% of the most vulnerable cities and centers of economic activity around the world. So how do we counter this huge debacle?

Changelooms - GreEntrepreneurs is envisaged as an inside-out learning and leadership journey for young Changemakers and early-stage Social Entrepreneurs/ Intrapreneurs that identifies, celebrates, and nurtures their leadership capacities and mentors them to initiate ventures and projects to bring about norm change in their communities to mitigate the climate crisis.

Journey So Far...

Window to change workshop

This three-day workshop served as an introduction to the program, providing participants with a foundational understanding of key concepts related to climate change.

Field Immersion

Changeloomers then embarked on a field immersion experience, engaging with communities and gaining a deeper understanding of the needs and challenges they face in relation to climate change. This on-ground feasibility study allowed.

Development Centre

The Development Centre workshop provided participants with an opportunity to build on the skills and insights gained in the orientation session and field immersion.

What changeloomers are saying....

"I have conducted a team building session for the staff at my organisation, IRCDUC. Development Centre workshop was much helpful to design the sessions & facilitate through IGNITE model. Thanking the facilitators who helped us understand various concepts around session designing."

Joel Shelton, Changeloomer.
